GIVES SOCIAL CLUBS A KNOCKOUT BLOW

Hanger Pharmacy Loses Case on Appeal—Sold Soft Drinks and Cigars on Sunday.

The fake social club was handed a knockout blow in the Supreme Court today, the special point in the case being that of the Hanger pharmacy, of Portsmouth.

Sometime ago a party of citizens of that city formed a combination, calling themselves the Crawford Social Club. They secured a charter, which gave them the privileges of selling cigars and soft drinks exclusively to the members of the club. The ordinances of Portsmouth prohibit the indiscriminate sale of anything on sunday, and the fake social club, as stated above, had succeeded in getting the drug stores which sold cigars and soft drinks on sunday enjoined to close on Sundays.

The officers of the club in question rented a room over the Hanger drug store, and opened their bogus quarters. As a result the store was kept open on Sunday for the sale of sodas and cigars to members of the club. Other drug stores, which sold such things during the week, and soft drink establishments made a kick, and the case got into court with a verdict against the club. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court and today the judgment of the lower court was sustained. The opinion made it clear that no club could take advantage of its charter for the purpose of competing with regularly established business men, and as it was clearly shown that the drug store was being used in that sense the charter was revoked.

DISMISSES APPEAL OF J. O. U. A. M. ORDER

Supreme Court Holds That It Had No Jurisdiction to Review the Judgment of Lower Court.

The Virginia Court of Appeals, in an opinion handed down today in the case of Jones et al., against State Council of Virginia, Junior Order United American Mechanics of Virginia, which came up from the Chancery Court of Richmond, dismissed the appeal, with costs, holding that it (the appellate tribunal) has no jurisdiction to review the judgment complained of.

The Chancery Court of this city, in the case mentioned, all much of which was published at the time, granted a decree, on March 31, 1904, as affirmed by the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia behind the Supreme Court of the United States, after certain continuances, the several defendants were adjudged to be in contempt and fined by the Chancery Court then $70 each.

Then came the appeal to the Supreme Court and the awarding of the writ of error.

The State Council insisted, at the time the decree of the Chancery Court was awarded, it took the ground that the decree should be set aside as void, because of a lawful decree of a court by a jury to the suit in order to dissolve and pay over, no writ of error lies from the Supreme Court.

In the court's opinion, the Judges say: "The Judges of this court are not required to pass upon the merits of plaintiffs in error of life or liberty. Its supervisory jurisdiction may be given a reasonable time within which to review the rulings of the courts that commit their failure or refusal to pay is that they involve the imprisonment of the plaintiffs in error, but even if such imprisonment then would be, not the punishment for the judgment of this court, which in its terms imposes a fine only, but for the contempt of and disobedience to a law decree of the court. The writ of error in this case then is not broad enough to cover the judgment involving the life or liberty of the plaintiffs in error, and the judgment involving the life or liberty of the plaintiffs excludes from its operation rather than involves life or the liberty, and the writ of error in this case, therefore, must be dismissed."

INDICT PRESIDENT OF HAMILTON BANK

NEW YORK.—Special.—Wm. R. Montgomery, president of the Hamilton Bank, has been indicted on two counts by the special grand jury assembled here, for benefit of the bar by Judge Dowling to investigate the local banks. Both indictments charge him with misdemeanor in connection with alleged violations of the banking law. He was arraigned and his bail was made on September 16, 1907. Bail was made on October 29th. Mr. Montgomery pleaded not guilty, and is out on bail.

Judge Dowling fixed bail at $2,500 on each indictment. Mr. Montgomery's brother, an architect and director of the bank, furnished the bail. The aggregate maximum penalty on each count is a year's imprisonment and $500 fine.

TO STRIKE OUT PROVISION PROPERTY QUALIFICATION

A resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution by striking out section 35, which prescribes that no person shall hold any office in any county or subdivision thereof, having a revenue of less than $250, has been offered in the Senate Legislature, but as yet imposed any property qualification for voters. TO INCREASE PAY OF VIRGINIA GOVERNOR

Amendment to the Constitution Is Proposed Fixing the Executive's Salary at $7,500 and Lengthening Term to Six Years.

Much discussion is likely to be aroused by Delegate Harry C. Glenn's proposed amendment to the Constitution, which is designed to change the term of office of the Governor from four to six years.

Mr. Glenn thinks that Virginia has too many elections, and furthermore, he believes the Executive is somewhat handicapped by having only one full session of the Legislature during his administration—that is to say, he leaves office while one General Assembly is sitting and retires in the middle of the next session.

In the same connection, the Richmond legislator proposes a bill increasing the salary of the Governor from $5,000 to $7,500 a year. He thinks the latter sum is more in keeping with the dignity of the office, and then, it would hardly do to more than enable the Executive to "make both ends meet" during his term of office.

Mr. Glenn's bill, if it passed, would become effective at the beginning of the next term, so that the increase and amendment could not take effect until 1914.

Apropos of the proposed increase in the governor's salary, it may be interesting to know that the man now holding that office gets no more than he formerly received the same pay that fell to the lot of Governor Montague, Tyler, Patrick Henry, the great revolutionary orator, Governor Randolph, and a host of others.

Mr. Glenn also contemplates a resolution calling for the removal of the iron fence around the Capitol grounds.

PARIS SUICIDE WAS AN ARDENT TERRORIST

PARIS.—Special.—The remarkable discovery has been made that Cathérine Mill, the beautiful and talented young Russian pianist, who committed suicide without any apparent reason for ending her life, was a most ardent Terrorist. It also develops that her name was not Mills, and that she had given herself in a fit of despondency over the fact that the Terrorist Committee would not let her a minister of peace.

Cathérine Mill's real name was Hubert Laurite, and she was a member of a well known and wealthy Moscow family, from which she received an allowance of $250 a month. She distributed most of this money among Paris, keeping only $10 or $20 a month for herself. Recently a certain young woman had written a number of letters to her, which she could only upon pleading with them to assign her to a post where she could help to compliish something for the cause, but she was refused a position the ugly and ordered her to remain quietly in Paris. The refusal of the Committee to accede to the wishes of the girl, who was only twenty-three, preyed on her discouraged her that she became disheartened and committed suicide.

She left a letter in which she said she was "sick of life," and could not make use of it to destroy others.

SQUASH WENT EGG ON THE JUDGE'S NOSE

CHICAGO, ILL.—Special.—In the Municipal Court in the Harrison Street station today, Judge Goodnow and Judge Johnson was fined $5 for disorderly conduct. Judge Crowe was not present.

"No," said Judge Crowe.

"Would you let me off with time?"

"No!" emphatically replied the Judge. A moment later a piece of fruit and like a flash her ammunition was in the air. Judge Crowe received an over-ripe egg on the nose. The contents of the egg, a little squash, Attorney Breen saw the next one coming. He ducked in the nick of time, and it struck a policeman in the jaw. The officer thought Breen was responsible for the assault, Sergeant McKay was standing by.

"Take that, you big duffer!" cried Detective Ed. Hoffman, as he threw at the ear with an egg. Then she was struck by the father down with an egg. Then she was fined $10 or 10 days in jail.

TO PUT WHITMORE ON TRIAL AT ONCE

HARRISON, N. J.—Special.—Theodora S. Whitmore, now in the Hudson county jail at Jersey City awaiting the meeting of his wife, Hetty A. Wright, whose dead body, it is alleged, he found in the Passaic River, Newark, on April 3d, will be brought to trial immediately after his indictment by the grand jury. It was learned today from an authentic source that Prosecutor Strieker has determined to try Attorney Whitmore first, and has decided upon the latter's wife as the first witness for the prosecution. Mrs. Whitmore is said to be the only person who can make out a prima facie case against her husband, and it is believed that the most damaging evidence sufficient to convict at an ordinary trial by jury.

RICHMOND CHAMBER KNOCKS MONOPOLY

Capital City Commercial Organization Urges Legislature to Repeal Restriction Against Paralleling R., F. & P. Railroad.

Still another solar plexus blow was dealt the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad last night by the Chamber of Commerce, when it resolved in favor of the bill to repeal the statute interdicting the paralleling of this ever-battering monopoly.

Here is the resolution the Chamber adopted:

"Whereas there are now pending in the Senate and House of Delegates of Virginia bills providing for the repeal of section 15 of the Seaboard Air Line charter, granted by the Legislature of May, 1903, which prohibits the construction of any railroad parallel to the line of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad between Richmond and Washington, within the State of Virginia, would greatly injure the interests of the city of Richmond and of the entire State; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Richmond, in meeting assembled, Concerning Corporations, above mentioned, should be repealed.

"Resolved, Further, that the members of the Senate and House of Delegates from the city of Richmond be requested to give every reasonable support to said bills that they may become a law, and to do all they can to secure the passage thereof.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to each member of the Senate and House of Delegates, and to the members of the Senate and House of Delegates from the city of Richmond, requesting them to give the matter their earnest attention, and to do all in their power to secure the passage and approval of the bills referred to, and to promote the passage of any bill for the repeal of section 15 of the charter of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, or some other corporation, which may be passed by the Legislature at the present session."

The resolution makes no provision for supplying them. However, the Senators say, if the judges will do as they are told to do they will have them. If they do not they will be violating the law, and they should not be allowed to wear them.

Should the Senate today vote down the impeachment charges against Judge Cardwell, who held the Seaboard Air Line with a charter for a railroad from the town of Ashland to some point on the Rappahannock river, in Caroline county, Delegate Lewis, the Democratic leader, will move a reconsideration. It will be remembered that Lewis is the author of the bill to repeal the statute which prohibits the construction of a railroad parallel to the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad.

Delegate Lewis, in discussing the matter, said: "The Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, or some other corporation, which may be chartered and put in operation by the line of railway from the town of Ashland, through the counties of King William, King and Queen and King William, to the town of Bowling Green, is merely a feint or a line of railway from the town of Ashland in an easterly direction to some point on the Rappahannock river, in Caroline county."

Delegate Lewis, in this connection, said he would not be surprised if a bill was soon introduced in the House by Messrs. Boyd and Coolrick.

"We Shall Strenuously Oppose It."

Delegate Cox, of Richmond, who introduced the original bill asking for the repeal of the anti-paralleling statute, did not have much to say when asked to give his views about the Evans bill, but that little was emphatic. "We shall strenuously oppose it," he briefly remarked. "That's about all that need be said. The people of the city of Richmond want to be nullify the effect of the repeal bill we propose to put through. The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad is a necessity to the people of this city and Virginia, and we shall not allow a mere boy he was sent to the Senate of Alberta, and when twenty years old, making his escape, he fled to this country.

AT GUN'S END PAID $500 FOR A $5 GAME

NEW YORK.—Special.—Ashley Banks, a Pine Brook (N. J.) farmer, was on a road much frequented by autoists, and they drive their machines through the New Jersey speed laws in their going and coming between New York and Morristown. Banks has made many unwilling subscribers to his treasury in the shape of dogs, chickens, geese and lambs, so yesterday morning he determined to "get even" for all time to come. He got a spring gun and set it behind a clump of bushes on the road across the highway the engine of destruction was trained on the middle of the road.

Then, in a clump of bushes on the other side of the road, he hid himself and his dog, a bloodhound of the Cuban variety, and awaited developments.

The first automobile to come along was Mr. Hall's, and it was going at a high rate of speed. Banks let it get by, and then he released the dog. The animal bounded across the road and fastened its teeth in the calf in the air; it fell to the ground, and Banks was afraid to fire lest he should hit the dog. He ran to the fallen animal, and found that the calf was dead. He then went to the house and informed the owner that he would have to pay $500 for the dog. Hall paid the money.

RAILWAY CLERKS' UNION ASK FAVORS OF C. & O.

E. E. Culbertson, of Portsmouth, and Mr. H. D. Horton, of Richmond, constituting a subcommittee of the Board of Adjustment of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks on the Chesapeake and Ohio, were in the city today to arrange a meeting between the management and the clerks in an effort to get recognition of the latter and secure other benefits, such as pay for overtime, etc. The Southern Railway, it is said, has already granted the concessions asked for.

The meeting is only about seven days off, during which time it has been arranged all over the system until today's membership of 15,000, will be brought down to 5,000 men, working on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. For the past two years, until today, they have a membership of about 20,000 men, but the number has been reduced to 15,000 by the strike on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, and Louisville, Ky.

The clerks have recently secured a very fine contract with the Southern Railway, and can be expected to get recognition from the Chesapeake and Ohio recognizes the clerks are looking forward to the time when they can contract with the C. & O.

DOG FIGHTS AROUSE CORNELL'S FACULTY

ITHACA, N. Y.—Special.—Following investigation of the charge that certain students have been engaging in fights, officers of the S. P. C. A. have been detailed to arrest any student in the university.

Several students were arrested yesterday by University Instructor Kramer, charged with cruelty to animals, in that these dogs were pitted against each other in fights which were staged for the entertainment of spectators. Kramer and Kramer Cameros made the arrests, taking to his rooms, in the possession of a bull terrier belonging to Ralph Hollis, of Rochester. It is alleged, and pitted the dog against a fox terrier. A Cornell friend here invited to witness the fight, but was told by Kramer that his dog was getting the best of it, and that the fox terrier's dog, disabling it. The invitation to the fight was extended in connection with Cornell University's annual football banquet, which is scheduled today. He said that the fight was staged in Sage Chapel, and that he would take place in his rooms, and that the fight was held.

It is the usual to hear on the streets of Ithaca of dog fights staged in private houses, and this has given rise to the charge that the fights are in connection with Cornell students.

He seems to be from gastric fever. Without a word he wrote a check for $5 and left. A long time to have found such trouble."
